PRICE LIST
Read Carefully Before Ordering
This list supersedes all others and is good so long as my stock is not sold out.
Reference to Commercial Agency and Farmers’ National Bank.
If you do not find what you want listed in this folder, write me about it. I may have it or be able to get it for you.

Guaranteed— I guarantee my stock to be alive and in good condition when it leaves my care. After that it is entirely out of my control and I do not stand responsible for either safe arrival or the growing of the plants when purchased from me. It is responsible for unusual delays or accidents to stock while in their care. Claims must be made upon receipt of goods. Should a plant prove to be unsatisfactory, notify me within 10 days of the date of arrival at destination and I will try to satisfy you. I am just as much interested in your success as you are. It means more business for me.

Berry, Small Fruit and Flower Plants, also Shrubs and Trees under 3 feet, will be packed and delivered f. o. b. Tapotaw. All Trees and Shrubs 3 feet and over, if wanted shipped, add to the list price 50 cents for orders of $5 or under, and 25 cents for each additional amount of $5 or under.

If stock is a little dry on arrival, wet it thoroughly and bury it in moist soil until ready to plant.

Germinate the strawberry plants until ready to plant, it will cause damping off; wet lower part of roots only and heal in moist soil. Do not plant too deep the crown must have air.

PLANT STRAWBERRIES
From October 20 to May 16, if wanted earlier.

Plow or spade your soil in the fall or early spring. Plant as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring. For field culture plant one and one half to two feet apart in the rows; rows three and one-half to four feet apart. Cultivate and hoe once a week until September 15. Mulch with hay or cow manure. For small patches plant twelve inches by eighteen inches. Keep all雜ers cut off. Mulch with leaves or lawn clippings. In the intermittent wetting system two thirds should be watered; the remaining third, as "staking fork or hoe three or four inches deep once a week.

Early bearing Progressive does the best for me, and for a small patch I would plant nothing else.

Follow the above directions and if the season is wet you will have berries in abundance from May 20 to November 15.

If berries are desired in dry weather, mulch heavily, if possible, to keep out the sun. A mulch of six inches is a common practice.

PEONIES

Peonies are acknowledged to be the finest and most popular, hardly flower grown, that bloom about Decoration Day. I have a large collection of varieties to select from including all types and colors of standard, medium priced series.

Plant from September 1 to April 1, the earlier the better. Plant in rich well drained soil, spade 18 inches deep, do not put any fertilizer directly over the plants; plant with eyes 2 to 3 inches below the surface of the ground.

The terms 2-3 eye, 3-7 eye; 7-10 eye divisions or 1 yr., 2 yr. and 3 yr. old clumps are as indefinite, a description of the size of the plant offered, as a "piece of chalk" it may be a large or a very small one. My prices are for strong 3-7 eye divisions. This is the most popular size to plant. If planted in September, most of them will bloom in May. Larger clumps for sale at prices in proportion to size of plants wanted.

Young plants, and most plants, in a dry season, seldom develop normal blooms. The blooms are usually lacking in size, formation and in richness and in delicate colorings. Definite conclusions and notes should not be made until after the 3d to 4th year after planting. A well grown Peony bloom is always pretty. A president of the "American Peony Society" said: "There are no really bad peonies."

Soil and climatic conditions have a wonderful effect on the general appearance and behavior of the plant and bloom.

25c EACH FOR THE FOLLOWING

Eudulas Sperwer—Early, mauve pink, tall, popular flower for Decoration Day.
Richard Carvel—Midseason, large, bright crimson, tall, good bloomer.
Henri Demay—Intensely bright red, large and profuse bloomer.
Felix de Crousse—Large, bright cherry red, considered by many growers as the best red.
Cleopatra—Rosy flesh, shell-like in color and form, single, 50c.
Aigle—Very dark crimson, early, fragrant, 50c.
Midian Emile Galle—Blush or lilac white, very large compact, late; one of my finest.
Marie Lemoine—Large, very compact, rose type.
Pale white, with cream-white center, occasional crimson tip, fragrant, medium height, extra strong, very late, extra good commercial variety.
La Tulipe—Blush white with red tulip like markings on outside of guard petals, very beautiful, both in bud and open flower, large, tall, vigorous; mid-season variety, sometimes called the "Pink Festiva Maxima."
Marguerite Gerard—Large, compact, flat shaped flower, pale hydramena pink, center petals flocked dark carmine.

General Grant (Terry)—Medium size, medium compact, globular, bomb type, sofierino red, drooping, open habit, mid-season. 50c.
Albatro—Very large, compact, globular, rose type, milky white, shaded ivory, wide center petals tinged lilac, edged with a minute line of carmine, fragrant, very strong, vigorous, tall grower, very free bloomer, late, 75c.
Eugene Verdier—Very large, compact, typical rose type, pale hydramena pink, outer guard petals lilac white, fragrant, very erect, rather dwarf habit, with extra strong stems, free bloomer, late, 75c.
Grover Cleveland (Terry)—Very large, compact, rose type, dark crimson, (168), strong, vigorous grower, late, 75c.

Avalanche—One of the newest varieties of rare beauty, purest white, fragrant, vigorous, very full, coneshape, 75c.

Mons. Jules Elie—The king of peonies. Descriptions do not do it justice. The ideal, glossy, lilac pink with silver reflex over entire bloom. Very beautiful. If you can have only one epinck, get this as it is unexcelled.

Marechal Vainc—Very large, compact, globular, rose type, dark mauve pink, tall, heavy, coarse stem, barely supporting the heavy bloom, late, good variety, 75c.

L'Esperance—Early large, fragrant, bright pink, extra fine, 50c.

LIVINGSTONE—Very large, compact, perfect rose type. Pale lilac rose, with silver tips, central petals flocked carmine. Odor lacking. Very strong, medium height, free bloomer. Extra good variety. 75c.

Mieke—One of the largest, late, soft and delicate pink, free bloomer, extra fine, $1.00.

Baroness Schroeder (Kelway 2890)—One of the most delicate, light flesh pink bud, blossoming when open, white, extra large and massive. The true stock is very scarce and in great demand by those who have ever seen it. The best of the English type. $5.50.
